ASTON MARTIN POWERBOAT DISCLOSED

Revolutionary new AM37
showcased in Dubai

Under the shadow of the Burj Khalifa, Quintessence Yachts and Aston Martin revealed more details of their powerboat collaboration. This will be the first boat to carry the iconic winged motif and in turn she has been injected with the ultra sophisticated DNA of the supercar brand. Aston's 'Beauty, Power and Soul' can be seen in the AM37's cockpit, with the finest leather finished off with high tech carbon fibre trimming and a host of electronics. The AM37 features integrated navigation, control monitors and entertainment systems; advanced multimedia functions, interactive voice control and the air con, fridge and espresso machine can be started remotely. More details as we get nearer her launch.

Arcadia Yachts announces sale of 115 Hull #4 is on her way to the Middle East

Ocean-going vessels do not get any more innovative than the Arcadia 115 and we at YACHTS are happy to hear that hull number four is on her way here. The Italian 'niche yard' has produced a truly unique craft, mixing cutting edge, eco-friendly technology, with a futuristic style all of her own. "The sale of the fourth Arcadia 115 confirms our production and visionary strategies over this model," commented Ugo Pellegrino, President of Arcadia Yachts. "You haven't seen a yacht like this before: you can see from the outside that she offers something different, but it's not until you step aboard that you can appreciate just how radical she really is." And with spectacular entertaining areas, floor-to-ceiling glazing amidships of the main deck and a transparent lounge on the upper deck, she will certainly be the focus of much interest when she arrives.
