ASTON MARTIN X QUINTESSENCE YACHT : AM 37 SUPERBOAT

11.05.2015 : Wiston Smith

Sick and tired of creating wheeled divinities, Aston Martin teamed up with Quintessence yacht to settle where paths don't exist. As a tantalizing glimpse of their collaboration, the 37-foot vessel is exactly what we would expect from a floating aston martin. Maybe too much.

Its scalpel-sharp curved lines combined to its high end material use makes it the humblest yet most stylish boat so far. The wooden deck and composite structure marry so well we would even forget its performances. Its first "Gran Turismo" version reaches 50 knots (57 mph) when the S-line sportyacht goes up to 60 knots (69mph).

Let's say the fully HD integrated touchscreen and the interactive voice control and activation are straight out from a gangster movie : awesome and unrealistic. No one hears you in the middle of the sea while travelling at 50 knots, not even your computer.
