1 AM37S

The sheer variety of yachts on display at the Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show can be overwhelming, so we've picked out a small selection of the best tenders and dayboats worth seeking out.

The Aston Martin-designed AM37S is sure to turn heads in Fort Lauderdale this year, with its sharp lines and effortless style. Quintessence Yachts, the British yard behind this 11.1 metre cruiser, has delivered the first two hulls, including one that arrived in Miami earlier this year. A third model is currently under construction for a European client and will be customised to match the owner's Aston Martin Vantage AMR road car with charcoal lacquer cabinetry and grey Novasuede headlining.

Visitors strolling the pontoons of FLIBS should keep an eye out for the new Diavolo Red version of the AM37S (pictured above), which boasts cream truffle leather upholstery and a 50-knot turn of speed delivered via a pair of 520hp Mercury Racing petrol engines.
